The Dean's Preface

A note from Dean of the Libraries, Brooke Cox

Welcome to the first issue of the Libraries' newsletter, The Table of Contents (TOC). Each month we'll send out a new issue with updates and features about library services, collections, and people. We are six months away from our move back to Roy O. West, which we look forward to daily. While we are out of the building we continue to provide library materials and services. This issue of TOC features Interlibrary Loan, one of the services that allow us to continue providing library stuff while our main collection has been in storage. Read on for more details about ILL.

ILL's Borrowed by Month during the '21-'22 Academic Year

Black: Electronic Loans to a DPU patron

Gold: Physical Loans to a DPU patron
(typically a book or DVD)

Service Spotlight: Interlibrary Loan

InterLibrary Loan (or ILL) is one of the more magical services of a library. Our DePauw Libraries have a robust ILL service that allows the DPU community to request various types of items from around the world and have them delivered to our campus or even directly to your own email!

Total ILL Interactions for the '21-'22 Academic Year

2,609

Interesting to note: we are not able to loan any items during the ongoing Roy renovation, so all of our ILL interactions are items that DePauw faculty, staff, and students have requested throughout the academic year!

Who is ILL? Meghan Tipton!

Meet Meghan- our multi-talented and hilarious InterLibrary Loan Manager. Meghan has worked at the DePauw Libraries since 2008 in different capacities and took over ILL in 2018. In her role, she helped transition ILL to a new platform over the past year and is an invaluable part of our team. When you get an ILL, you can directly credit her work, as she processes all ILL requests for our university- no small task! Meghan also has an amazing sense of humor which she displays on social media with memes, funny pictures of her adorable dog and two cats, and pop culture references to the 80s and 90s.
